As a Security Supplier Member of the NTIA, you will not only advocate for and support our mission of fostering community cohesion but also become a unified voice for our industry.

Security Supplier Membership offers a diverse range of benefits, in addition to those included in our Individual Membership. We are dedicated to expanding your network by connecting you with like-minded individuals and facilitating enduring relationships. For instance, our exclusive events provide you with opportunities to engage not only with potential prospects but also with other businesses, enabling you to explore novel ideas and avenues

Our existing Supplier Members have derived significant advantages from their association with us, enhancing not only their reputation but also amplifying their local visibility. Moreover, there exists an option to gain national exposure through our Business Directory service, accessible to all our members. We provide guidance and furnish our members with timely updates on industry developments and trends, ensuring that you remain informed about the evolving landscape and equipped with the pertinent information you require.

By joining the NTIA as a security supplier, you also become a part of UKDSA, allowing you to stay informed about significant changes impacting the security supply sector.
